Horsmonden Genealogy Have you got an ancestor from Horsmonden?

Welcome to the Horsmonden Genealogy home page. We enjoy helping the countless people who are looking for information about their Horsmonden ancestors - you are certainly not alone.

If you are looking for First World War casualties listed on the War Memorial, we have a page dedicated to it. Click here to see it.

Due to the amount of enquires about genealogy we get, we set up a forum in 2000. It has served this purpose well, but now we have fully integrated it into the website - which means you only have to set-up on eaccount for the whole website.

If the forum is of interest to you PLEASE MAKE SURE YOU OPEN AN ACCOUNT to ensure future access. Note: Accounts are FREE and we ask you open one only if you want to post messages.

It is primarily for people who are looking for Horsmonden ancestors. Use it to post queries about specific people in the hope that locals or other users may be able to help.

One of the main benefits has been the collaboration that has been made possible. Often people find they are looking for the same family, and you might find that someone has already done the hard work for you!
